Sample assessment task

Literature – ATAR Year 11

Task 5 – Unit 1

Assessment type: Extended written response

Conditions

Time for the task: four weeks

Due: Semester 1 Week 14

Suggested length: 1200–1500 words

Task weighting

5% of the school mark for this pair of units

What you need to do

Discuss how the novel Jasper Jones exhibits the key feature of the genre of novel called Bildungsroman and how that has affected your reading of that text.

Central to the idea of the Bildungsroman is that the narrative allows the reader to witness the development of the mind and character of the protagonist. In this novel there are, arguably, three main characters, Charlie Bucktin, Jasper Jones and Jeffrey Lu. You might like to consider these questions as you develop your essay:

- Is one character more of a main character than the others and therefore the central figure of the Bildungsroman?
- Which events or episodes in the novel allow the reader to witness the development of the main character(s)?
- What development of character takes place: social, cultural, moral, ethical, philosophical, spiritual?
- How does the narrative technique allow the reader to witness the development?

What you need to do

Create multiple readings of one poem and explain why you chose the reading practices you have employed.

Suggested approach:

1. Review the reading practices covered this year, for example, gender, psychoanalytical, race/ethnicity, post-colonial and reading by genre. Re-read the relevant chapters in Literary Terms if necessary.
2. Choose a poem from one of the six poets that lends itself to being read by more than one reading practice.
3. Create one page of notes about those readings to bring to class.
