Comprehension
Comprehends all questions and comments from the marker related to the stimulus and responds with no or few requests for clarification. Demonstrates an effective repertoire of	4 strategies to aid comprehension when responding to complex questions.
Comprehends all anticipated and familiar questions, including comments by the marker, related to the stimulus and responds with little or no hesitation. Needs pauses to process	3 complex questions and marker's comments. Expresses the need for clarification or	3 repetition when required. Needs minimal support from the marker.
Occasionally hesitates, but comprehends most simple and well-practised questions related to the stimulus. Has difficulty when processing complex questions, even after	2 repeating or rewording by the marker. Relies on support strategies but does not always	2 use them effectively. Requires some support from the marker.
Comprehends only the simplest of questions related to the stimulus, but lack of comprehension frequently results in inappropriate answers. Employs a limited range of	1 support strategies and has difficulty comprehending repeated or reworded questions.	1
Requires considerable support from the marker.
Shows little or no evidence of comprehension of questions related to the stimulus resulting in partial answers and numerous silences. Leaves many questions	0 unanswered, even after frequent repeating and rewording by the marker. Demonstrates	U lack of support strategies to aid comprehension.
