Philosophy and Ethics
Resource lists—Print materials
Copyright
© School Curriculum and Standards Authority, 2011

This document—apart from any third party copyright material contained in it—may be freely copied, or communicated on an intranet, for non-commercial purposes by educational institutions, provided that it is not changed in any way and that the School Curriculum and Standards Authority is acknowledged as the copyright owner.
Teachers in schools offering the Western Australian Certificate of Education (WACE) may change the document, provided that the School Curriculum and Standards Authority’s moral rights are not infringed.
Copying or communication for any other purpose can be done only within the terms of the Copyright Act or by permission of the Authority.
Copying or communication of any third party copyright material contained in this document can be done only within the terms of the Copyright Act or by permission of the copyright owners.

Disclaimer
Any resources such as texts, websites and so on that may be referred to in this document are provided as examples of resources that teachers can use to support their learning programs. Their inclusion does not imply that they are mandatory or that they are the only resources relevant to the course.
Philosophy and Ethics

RESOURCE LISTS—PRINT MATERIALS

References:

This text explains how to use an important, or argumentative, concept. Suitable for teachers.

Accessible to both teachers and students, this text uses short scenarios to pose moral or philosophical problems.

A teacher reference which provides examples to use with students.

This text contains material on pseudoscience and fallacies.

Cohen examines ethical dilemmas in an accessible manner. Suitable for use with students.

In this text Grayling considers the question of how to live a good life.

A resource for teachers.

As the title suggests, this text examines the reasons for teaching philosophy in schools and some teaching ideas.

A text suitable for both students and teachers.

A guide through the history of philosophy/philosophers and is suitable for both teachers and students.

A background reference for teachers.

A teacher reference. This text explores the questions of how and why we made the change from social primate to moral primate.

This text is a teacher guide about how to assess and construct argument.

Student texts:

Stage 1

Stage 2

Stage 3

These three texts were written specifically for students for the three stages of the course.