Assessment Table – Modified for use in 2023

Where the number of tasks for assessment types with specified focuses must be reduced, teachers should ensure that the assessments provide students the opportunity to demonstrate a representative sampling of the skills in the syllabus content.

All the following assessment types must be assessed once. The weighting provided is the weighting for each assessment.

Type of assessment	Weighting
Investigation Framing of questions, planning, locating sources, identifying information, assessing relevance, note-taking, interacting with others, synthesising, evaluating, reflecting and producing an oral proposal. Part A: Semester One (recommended 10%) Investigate an issue/topic related to Unit 1 and present a research proposal in an oral format. Investigation – Part B: Semester Two (recommended 10%) Write a report based on research around a Unit 1 or 2 topic/issue.	20%

All the following assessment types must be assessed at least once but no more than twice. The weighting provided is the total weighting of the assessment type for the combined pair of units. Where only one task is administered for an assessment type, the weighting of the assessment must match the weighting of the assessment type.

Type of assessment	Weighting
